Robotic Stock Trading: So Simple, Yet So Powerful

8:40 AM – Registration

9:00 AM - Welcome and introduction of Speaker

Ed Barsano, Founder and CEO of CoolTrade, Inc.

Ed Barsano will discuss the key elements in every 100% fully robotic trading strategy, its advantage over institutional/flash trading, and the many advantages it has over manual trading styles. Learn about the future of robotic trading, its evolution, and where it fits in with the modern investor's trading activities.

Attend this meeting to learn:

- The difference between robotic stock trading and robo advising or day trading
- How robotic software can protect and take profits nearly every day
- The key framework of a sound robotic strategy

About Ed Barsano:

Ed Barsano is the founder and CEO of CoolTrade Inc. He is a former Microsoft software developer and world-wide operations manager, involved in the development of Microsoft's internal knowledge base as well as the first release of Windows. After retiring from Microsoft, Ed combined his tech expertise with his knowledge of stock trading to develop the industry's first AI-based fully robotic platform. His company has since then partnered with leading brokers such as TD Ameritrade, E-Trade, Interactive Brokers, and Autoshares to offer the platform world-wide. Ed currently resides in Scottsdale, Arizona with his wife and family.
